ABOUT DEPARTMENT

The Department of Social Work in the School of Humanities and Social Sciences in Gautam Buddha University started in 2011. The Department of Social Work is offering Bachelor of Social Work (BSW) and Master of Social Work (MSW) programmes. BSW and MSW programmes are designed to contribute towards the developmental need and to produce efficient professionals for the development/ humanitarian sector as a whole. The syllabus is developed keeping in view the international standards and professional ethics that would give wider understanding about the basic human rights, the developmental needs and services for the people living in different cultural contexts to facilitate healthy living and well-being.

The student would develop the knowledge and skills of working with a diverse group of population in various set-ups like, communities, schools, industries and hospitals. They would also be able to analyze the problems through critical understanding of the situation and facilitate appropriate measures through social work intervention. These programmes would also enable the students to work as independent social work professionals in various demanding situations. Specifically the students would develop competencies in research, documentation, evaluation, planning, designing, administration, and social work interventions.
