

ATTENTION: PUBLIC NOTICE

This is a warning to the public at large that certain unscrupulous individuals utilize the Internet when they commit criminal offenses. The use of the Internet is not a safe haven for computer-related crimes. Individuals, whether adults or teenagers, who are caught using the Internet to commit crimes will be prosecuted. The FBI is currently investigating a number of individuals who have used the Internet to commit crimes. These individuals have been caught using the Internet to commit crimes such as identity theft, credit card fraud, and other crimes. The FBI is currently investigating a number of individuals who have used the Internet to commit crimes. These individuals have been caught using the Internet to commit crimes such as identity theft, credit card fraud, and other crimes. The FBI is currently investigating a number of individuals who have used the Internet to commit crimes. These individuals have been caught using the Internet to commit crimes such as identity theft, credit card fraud, and other crimes.

ATTENTION: PUBLIC NOTICE

This is a warning to the public at large that certain unscrupulous individuals utilize the Internet when they commit criminal offenses. The use of the Internet is not a safe haven for computer-related crimes. Individuals, whether adults or teenagers, who are caught using the Internet to commit crimes will be prosecuted. The FBI is currently investigating a number of individuals who have used the Internet to commit crimes. These individuals have been caught using the Internet to commit crimes such as identity theft, credit card fraud, and other crimes. The FBI is currently investigating a number of individuals who have used the Internet to commit crimes. These individuals have been caught using the Internet to commit crimes such as identity theft, credit card fraud, and other crimes. The FBI is currently investigating a number of individuals who have used the Internet to commit crimes. These individuals have been caught using the Internet to commit crimes such as identity theft, credit card fraud, and other crimes.

ATTENTION: PUBLIC NOTICE

This is a warning to the public at large that certain unscrupulous individuals utilize the Internet when they commit criminal offenses. The use of the Internet is not a safe haven for computer-related crimes. Individuals, whether adults or teenagers, who are caught using the Internet to commit crimes will be prosecuted. The FBI is currently investigating a number of individuals who have used the Internet to commit crimes. These individuals have been caught using the Internet to commit crimes such as identity theft, credit card fraud, and other crimes. The FBI is currently investigating a number of individuals who have used the Internet to commit crimes. These individuals have been caught using the Internet to commit crimes such as identity theft, credit card fraud, and other crimes. The FBI is currently investigating a number of individuals who have used the Internet to commit crimes. These individuals have been caught using the Internet to commit crimes such as identity theft, credit card fraud, and other crimes.

[illegible][illegible][illegible]